What kind of tutor support did you get?

I got feedback on how to write tasks, how to approach them. The templates for tasks were very useful and straightforward. Also got feedback after every TP, which helped improve the next one.

Thanks a lot. This CELTA drill helped me come out of my comfort zone and change some of the old habits of procrastinating things. All the best! :)

What kind of tutor support did you get?

Whenever I would have a question, I would always get a quick response. I never felt alone or unwelcome. I also knew exactly what to do, the instructions were always really clear.

What kind of changes would you like us to make?

It really would be nice if there was time for us to make small talk with the students before starting the lesson.

What did you like? What will you remember?

I liked everything. Especially switching to online CELTA. I remember that I was terrified by it but it turned out to be a great learning experience and it really made me decide that online teaching is an excellent option for my future teaching career.

Are you happy that you took the course?

Yes! For sure! I would recommend it to anyone that plans to become a teacher and, most importantly, to current teachers that really need to upgrade their style :)

What kind of tutor support did you get?

Well, Steve was my first tutor and his advice for my first TP was: Try not to have a heart attack and you will be great. So that was the best advice! Natasha really helped me wrap my mind around aims, subaims, not to overcomplicate lessons, not to focus so much on lexis. And one of the best inputs was on how to use tech for an online session. And Lawrie thanks for opening my eyes! Lexis and grammar are not the main things when learning/teaching a language! So this is something that really made me think! And I am still thinking about it and how to apply it in my future lessons.

What kind of changes would you like us to make?

Maybe also include online sessions as part of TPs, tech and online teaching is part of the future.
